This academic year we are convening a series of interdisciplinary, informal meetings in which academics with an interest in the sociologist Pierre Bourdieu’s writings are invited to present and give feedback on new, Bourdieu-inspired, papers. University of Warwick faculty and PhD students across all Departments, as well as members of other universities, are welcome. This is a unique opportunity to identify and interact with colleagues across the university who are all interested in practice-based sociological theory.

We will meet on the following Tuesdays from 12:00 to 13:30 in a seminar room at Warwick Business School:

Autumn Term 2016: October 18th; November 15th; December 13th

Spring Term 2017: January 17th; February 14th; March 14th

Please send an email with the subject “Bourdieu cafe” to rene.wiedner@wbs.ac.uk if you are interested in presenting at, or attending, any of these sessions. You will then receive emails with further details, including the exact location for each session. We will provide a light lunch and soft drink at each session for everyone who registers.
